This domaine's 2019 Chateauneuf du Pape—a blend of 65% Grenache, 25% Mourvèdre and 10% Syrah, all aged in concrete tanks or tronconic vats—is pretty classically styled. Hints of garrigue accent ripe cherries on the nose in this full-bodied, supple effort. Yes, it's ripe, weighing in at a reported 16.2% alcohol, yet it doesn't come across as hot or heavy-handed, being easy to drink, with a long, concentrated and softly tannic finish.
